

SS Commandos Killed Masses Of Jews, Red Commissars

By JAMES F. KING
Nuremberg, Germany, Jan. 3 (AP)—A former aide of Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler told the International military tribunal today that special SS commandos were attached to the German army on the eastern front with orders to kill every Jew and Soviet political commissar in occupied Russian regions.

Major General of Police Otto Ohlendorf, testifying in the trial of 22 Nazi leaders, declared that the high command of the German army had full knowledge of the commando order.

The 38-year-old witness, who had been in the SS since his teens, said his own Einsatzgruppe, operating with the German 11th Army in the Ukraine, alone had liquidated 90,000 persons in the first year of the war with Russia.

Outlining the inner workings of the security police system under questioning by Col. John Harlan Amen, an assistant U. S. prosecutor, Ohlendorf testified that Himmler personally gave liquidation orders to leaders of the special Einsatzgruppen.

Killed En Masse
"He told us that the men had no responsibility for the acts and that the responsibility was his alone, as well as that of the fuhrer," the witness said.

Ohlendorf, who admitted giving orders himself for mass executions, testified that he conferred frequently with army commanders on the execution of Himmler's orders.

He said the victims included men, women and children, and explained how they were wiped out en masse after being lined up on the pretext that they would be relocated.

Standing erect, Ohlendorf spoke through the microphone without hesitation, frequently turning his eyes towards the defendants sitting in the prisoners' box on the opposite side of the room.

Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering sucked in his lips and shook his head slightly. Col. Gen. Alfred Jodi and Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel gave the witness steady looks, but showed no emotion.

Claim Over 90,000
Giving details of the mass executions in Russia, Ohlendorf said leaders of some other groups reported that they had surpassed the 90,000 which his own group accounted for, but added that he believed their figures were "to a large extent exaggerated."

"I was present at the mass executions," he declared calmly under questioning. "A local Einsatz commander would collect all the Jews in one area. They would be rounded up on the pretext that they were to be relocated."

"After registration, the Jews were collected at certain places, then transported to the place of execution, which was usually an anti-tank ditch or a natural gully."

"The Jews were transported in trucks and executed immediately. The time during which the victims knew what was going to happen to them was kept as short as possible."

Gassed In Vans
In the spring of 1942, he said, the procedure was changed when Himmler ordered that "women and children should be killed only in gas vans." These were disguised as ordinary trailers, he said, but were so designed that a gas engine could pump enough gas into them in 15 minutes to kill the occupants.

He declared that the victims died on the way to their burial place without knowing they were being executed.

"They suffered no pain," he commented. All the personal property and other belongings of the victims, whether shot or executed in the gas vans, was collected and given to the Reich finance ministry or to the central command office of the Gestapo and security police, he said.

COLLEGE SEEKS ROOMS FOR 150 WAR VETERANS

Gettysburg college today appealed to the people of Gettysburg to help find rooming accommodations for 150 war veterans who will enter the local institution at the opening of the second semester, January 29.

Every effort is being made by college authorities to house these men who are going to pursue their higher education after serving in World War II, but the housing facilities at the college are insufficient to care for all of them, hence the appeal to townspeople to help.

Single beds are needed for these war veterans and Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college, told The Times this morning that if private homes or rooming houses do not have the single bed accommodations the college will furnish the beds in order to care for the veterans.

Leave In May
The veterans will arrive in Gettysburg on or before January 29 and will remain here until the third week in May, the closing of the school year. The rooms will then be made available for the regular transient business that is expected to be considerably increased over last year. However, for the period of the second semester many rooms are needed for the new college students.

Most of the veterans are unmarried. There are a few who will want to bring wives with them, some of whom will also attend college.

Those who have rooming accommodations are urged to communicate with the college or report the extent of their accommodations to the local Chamber of Commerce which is also cooperating in this effort.

Those in private homes, heretofore unavailable for roomers, are also being urged to make every effort to accommodate one or more veterans during this emergency. The prevailing room rent will be paid by the veterans.

Same Trouble In Ohio
Columbus, O., Jan. 3 (AP)—More than 5000 education-seekers were turned away by Ohio State University for the winter quarter opening today because of housing, classroom and teacher shortages, school officials reported.

Despite the disappointed thousands, the enrollment probably will reach an all-time high of nearly 14,000, Dr. Harold B. Thompson, registrar, predicted.

He added that if facilities had been available to admit all applicants, enrollment for the winter quarter undoubtedly would have reached nearly 20,000. Peak enrollment was 13,337 in 1939.

CHILD WELFARE GROUP MEETS

The annual plan of operation under which the Adams County Child Welfare Services will function during 1946 was formulated and approved at the January meeting of the advisory committee Wednesday evening at the Child Welfare offices in the Murphy building. With minor changes the plan is similar to that used in 1945. It was announced.

The committee discussed better means of presenting to the public the program of child welfare work in the county. The Rev. A. W. Geigley, Iron Springs, was named as the group's representative to the reorganization meeting of the Adams County Welfare committee.

Mrs. Henry T. Bream was named secretary of the advisory group to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. M. K. Eckert. A report was received on the Christmas gift program conducted for the benefit of the children under the organization's care.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grieb, executive secretary, said the appeal for gifts for children met with a "very generous response" this season. She added that she believes each child under the group's care "had a nice Christmas."

The vice chairman, the Rev. Dr. Geigley, presided at the meeting.

The next monthly session will be held February 4.

Premature Baby, 2 Heads, Clings Tenaciously To Life

Birmingham, England, Jan. 3 (AP)—A premature girl child born with two heads clung to her second day of life today, neither gaining nor losing strength.

The mother, 21-year-old wife of a repatriated American soldier, pondered names for what she still believed to be twin daughters.

Nurses at the maternity ward of Solly Oak hospital said they understood the young mother's parents had notified the father about the child but they said they did "not know what they had told him."

The strange child, rare in medical history, ate and cried normally with both its perfectly formed heads. She was in a ward with other premature babies and was being fed every three hours.

The hospital declined to disclose the names of the parents or grandparents.

The hospital said there was "no change at all" in the child's condition overnight. Doctors said the child had only a slight chance to live any considerable length of time.

The mother was recovering normally after bearing her first child, which weighed five pounds and 12 ounces.

The doctor in charge said the strange birth was caused by imperfect division of a single ovum. Such accidents occasionally result in the birth of Siamese twins.

"The child born on Tuesday cannot be described as a Siamese twin," he said, "it has two heads and two necks joined at a point on the shoulder. It has a single trunk."

"It obviously has two sets of lungs, because you can see the two heads breathing independently and they have a different pulse rate."

"The two heads are also crying and feeding at different times. One of them is bigger and more chirpy than the other, which is feeble, but otherwise they are almost identical."

"Don't Ever Do That!"

Washington, Jan. 3 (AP)—Telephone service in the nation's capital was disrupted for nearly an hour last night by a buyers' rush for nylons.

A radio station announcer said that a chain of shoe stores had 1,000 pairs of nylon stockings and that the first 1,000 persons who called the stores' number could get them. He added that they could not be bought otherwise than by an immediate telephone reservation.

So many calls were made that mechanical equipment in most of the residential area telephone exchanges became overloaded and it was impossible to get a dial tone.

The radio station subsequently made repeated appeals to its listeners to stop calling the number, explaining that telephone service had been disrupted and that all the nylons had been sold anyway.

It was Washington's second disruption of telephone service in three weeks. The first was caused by a rush of government workers to make Christmas vacation train reservations.

BUS SERVICE WILL RESUME HERE SUNDAY

The first Greyhound buses to operate in and out of Gettysburg since the drivers' strike went into effect last November 1, will move Sunday morning, according to Charles Downs, chief local dispatcher of the Greyhound Lines.

The first incoming bus will be from Philadelphia and Washington at noon and at 3 o'clock from Pittsburgh.

Thereafter the full schedule is expected to be resumed with eight eastbound and eight westbound buses operating through here daily.

The Greyhound Post House, local terminal restaurant, which closed shortly after the strike started, will reopen Sunday morning.

4,000 On Strike

Cleveland, Jan. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania and Central Greyhound Bus employees were called back to work today with the ending of a two-month strike of 4,000 workers in 18 eastern states, but company officials said it might be Saturday before the vehicles started rolling again.

A spokesman for the two companies pointed out that considerable servicing would be necessary before the buses, idle since November 1, could resume operating.

The AFL-Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America called off the strike Sunday night, pending preparation of a fact-finding report proposed by Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach. The fact-finding board is scheduled to hold its first hearing in Washington today.

The doctors were shown two motion picture films by a representative of the Pennsylvania State Medical society. One was titled "Men of Medicine" and the other showed American Air Force units in combat over Europe.

PARIS SUFFERS FOR LACK OF WINTER FUEL

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP World Traveler)

Paris, Jan. 3.—This is being written in one of the very few Paris hotel rooms with any heat at all, although winter has fastened an icy grip on the French capital with its millions of inhabitants.

Across the street the French tricolor and the stars and stripes are tugging at their standards side by side—a grand sight but an uncomfortable reminder that the wind which is whipping them about is penetrating every nook and cranny of this great city with a subfreezing temperature. That means wholesale suffering, especially among the poor who are eking out their lives on the edge of the under-privileged.

It means hardship and death not only in Paris but far beyond. For we are sitting here on the edge of a continent that is largely without coal or any other fuel. Europe is struggling with the most dangerous winter it has experienced in modern times.

Real Black Diamonds

Offices, hotels and homes in Paris and other cities are only partially heated at best, and many have no heat at all. If you have an apartment, for instance, you are lucky to be able to have a fireplace or stove in one room going for a short time each day if extreme cold. Fortunately there's gas enough for moderate cooking purposes. Electricity for lighting is cut off for certain hours each day.

Lumps of coal are in truth black diamonds, for the rationing is harsh. A person living alone is allowed only 330 pounds for the whole winter. A married couple gets double that amount, but there is a reduction per person for larger families. People in the rural districts are allowed to use wood, but they can't sell it in the cities. If you are the owner of a country estate you may bring wood into the city for your own use—provided you give the same amount to charity.

One of the most serious aspects of this fuel shortage rests in the fact that the people have been underfed throughout the years of war. As a result their resistance to disease has been lowered, and this winter weather is depleting office staffs everywhere through illness.

ORDER ALTAR FOR TRINITY CHURCH SCHOOL

The board of Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church school met at the parsonage Wednesday night. Mrs. H. S. Fox was in charge of the devotions. The annual financial report for the year ending October 1, 1945, prepared by Ray J. Kitzmiller, treasurer, was presented. The group expressed its appreciation to the Consistory of the church for the renovation and decoration of the church school rooms.

A nursery school held during the hour of morning worship which was started, on trial, during the advent season, was discontinued as there appeared to be little requirement for this service. The committee in charge comprised Mrs. John D. Teeter, Mrs. H. S. Fox and Mrs. Ray J. Kitzmiller. Mrs. Robert Deardorff reported that an attendance campaign being held in the primary department during the past several months would close on February 1.

Order New Altar

Reports of the Christmas parties held by various departments were given by the superintendent and bills for the same paid by the school. Miss Alice Snyder, stewardship superintendent, reported that the renewals of memberships in the Fellowship of Compassion would start February 1. More than 100 members of the church and school are contributing monthly for the use of war-torn peoples in other countries in the world.

The Rev. H. S. Fox reported that a new altar had been ordered for the church school room and requested that the board begin thinking about plans for Lenten work which begins on March 6. Various reports were given and Mrs. Fox served refreshments at the close of the session.

The next meeting will be held February 6 at the home of Mrs. Deardorff.

CHECKED 111 SCHOOLS

The number of schools inspected throughout the county last year by William I. Shields, state sanitarian for the county, for health and fire hazard was 111. In the report on Mr. Shields' work published Wednesday the figure appeared incorrectly as 11. The record of more than three months without a quarantined disease in all of Adams county remained unmarred today.

SPORTSMEN TO MEET

The Adams County Fish and Game association will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Odd Fellows Hall. Final arrangements for the banquet to be held January 25 will be made. A large attendance is urged.

WAR MESSAGE TO SHORT WAS 7 HOURS LATE

By JACK BELL

Washington, Jan. 3 (AP)—The Senate-House Inquiry Committee today studied a statement by Adm. Harold R. Stark that a group of Senators wanted the fleet pulled back to the west coast after Pearl Harbor but that he resisted their demands.

Stark, recalled for additional questioning today, told the investigating group yesterday about a Capitol Hill conference he and Gen. George C. Marshall held with legislators after the December 7, 1941, attack.

The then Chief of Naval Operations said the senators were worried about the safety of west coast cities. He did not identify the senators.

Opposed Moving Ships

"I pointed out to them," Stark said, "that the place for the fleet was as far west in the Pacific as we could afford to place it."

Stark added that he reported to the late President Roosevelt that while the Japanese had put eight battleships out of commission, the fast striking forces of the fleet still were intact.

As it resumed sessions today, the committee was operating for the first time with Seth W. Richardson, elected unanimously to succeed William D. Mitchell, as its counsel.

Stark testified yesterday that he often had thought since about the decision he made on December 7, 1941, not to parallel the last-minute message sent by Marshall, then Army Chief of Staff, to army leaders.

Marshall sent a warning that the Japanese were preparing to deliver a diplomatic reply at 1 p. m., Washington time, on that day, noting that the significance of the hour was not clear. After Marshall talked with Stark twice, Stark asked that naval commanders be introduced about the message.

Message 7 Hours Late

Marshall dispatched the message from his office in hurriedly penciled form but because the army radio could not get through to Hawaii it was sent by commercial radio. It did not reach Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, in command in Honolulu, until seven hours after the attack.

Stark said he offered to have the navy transmit the message, but that Marshall thought it would get through quickly by army facilities. The navy radio was much stronger than the army's.

"I did not parallel it," the white-haired admiral testified slowly, "and that is the thought that I have had often since—if I had paralleled it, it might have gone through."

STRIKE TO END AT TALON PLANT

Meadville, Pa., Jan. 3 (AP)—Talon, Inc., zipper plants here and at Erie, closed since October 24 by a strike which made 3,700 workers idle, will be back in operation by next Monday. This was announced in a joint statement by the company and the AFL-Tool and Die Makers late yesterday, after a new contract was signed giving workers an eight cents an hour raise, retroactive to January 7, 1945. The union had asked for 10 cents an hour.

The joint statement said the contract would be effective for at least one year.

The strike was called by the Tool and Die Makers after wage negotiations broke down. Picket lines were quickly formed about the three zipper plants here and in less than 24 hours all were closed down. A few days later the Talon plant at Erie shut down.

Ceiling Prices Go On Citrus Fruits

Washington, Jan. 3 (AP)—Oranges, grapefruit and lemons go back under price ceilings tomorrow, and OPA plans to take plenty of time before authorizing any future control suspensions.

A high official of the agency, asking that his name not be used, said that "because citrus prices rose like they did, we are going to be exceedingly careful about removing any more ceilings."

The order restoring citrus ceilings, announced last night, was issued after a month of argument by OPA that the action should be taken, and contentions up to the last few days by the Agriculture department that it should not be.

Even after agriculture officials agreed, they held out for making the order effective Sunday. OPA favored putting it on the books today. This dispute went on all day yesterday before a compromise making Friday the effective date was reached.

The plain, simple appeal from Dean Tilberg, who has devoted many years to the Scout movement without remuneration of any kind, should strike a heart-warming, general response from all our citizens. He said:

To all our regular contributors we say thanks for their support maintained over the past. To our new membership we solicit their generous support towards maintaining an effective organization."

Contributions may be sent to Dean Tilberg or to any member of the Scout Committee. Any amount, large or small, will be greatly appreciated and put to a good use.

DEMANDS FOR EGGS DECLINE

Washington, Jan. 3 (AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics predicted today the production of eggs in the first half of 1946 will be about the same as in the first half of 1945.

Because war needs have declined, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson has appealed, however, for a 15 per cent decrease in production.

Should the bureau's forecast come to pass, a surplus of eggs, possibly necessitating broad buying by the government, would in all likelihood develop.

The bureau said civilian demand is expected to continue fairly strong, but below 1945 levels, when consumer income was at a record level and when meat supplies were short.

The bureau said chicken meat prices in the first half of 1946 probably will be moderately below the previous year, but at about present levels. It said total supplies will be declining seasonally, but will be at or near-record levels for the period.

"Civilian supplies per capita probably will exceed those in any corresponding period in earlier years," the bureau said.

GEORGE FORNEY RESUMES POST AS CAGE COACH

George Forney, who received his discharge from the navy last month, has taken over his duties as head coach and physical education instructor at Gettysburg high school. It was announced today by Prof. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of schools.

Forney entered the navy on June 11, 1943, and spent his entire period of service at Bainbridge, Md. He served as an instructor in physics and physical education at the naval training station at Bainbridge and attained the rank of chief petty officer.

"Bill" Ridinger, who served as football and basketball coach until Wednesday, has been named as Coach Forney's assistant.

Fred Haehnel will take over the intra-mural program under the new plans after serving as assistant to Ridinger.

Meet York Friday
The Maroon and White eagles held their first workout under the direction of Coach Forney Wednesday afternoon in preparation for their game with York high at York Friday evening.

Prior to entering the service Coach Forney turned out three straight Southern Pennsylvania scholastic league and District 3 PIAA champions at Gettysburg high school. He takes over an unbeaten team this season that has defeated Westminster, York and Frederick in three starts.

Friday's contest is expected to be a severe test for the Maroons after the holiday recess. The Maroons tripped York here last month with a big fourth period rally and anticipate another grueling game at York. York dropped a 28-27 decision to Hershey Industrial high Wednesday evening at Hershey. The lanky White Rose team has won two and lost two games.

At 7 o'clock the jayvee teams will play. The York reserves handed the Maroon scrubs a 51-15 beating here.

Says Dodgers Will Be Among Top Eight

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 3 (AP)—Leo (The Lip) Durocher, back as the Brooklyn Dodgers' 1946 manager, quipped today the daffiness boys will finish among the first eight in their eight-team National league.

He was more optimistic in a telephone conversation last night with Dodger officials in New York—a talk that ended in agreement with President Branch Rickey to pilot the "Bums" for the eighth year.

Durocher told Rickey he was "high" on the Dodgers' pennant chances, and informed another official it was his No. 1 ambition to win a pennant under Rickey. His 7-year record is one pennant won, second place twice, third three times and seventh once.

With more salary promised—and perhaps an understanding on a bonus—Durocher went right to work to select his regulars for the coming season.

LaSalle Player Is Top Scorer In Pa.

Philadelphia, Jan. 3 (AP)—La Salle college's Bob Walters, idle during the two-week holiday period, was still the No. 1 sharpshooter in Pennsylvania's collegiate basketball scoring race but his 111-point total was being sniped at by ballhawks across the state.

Gene Hannum, Carnegie Tech ace, also inactive during the Christmas and New Year's vacation, still retained second place with 90 points.

Dave Podbielski of Geneva with 74, Joe Lord of Villanova with 69, and Temple's Jack Hewson with 67 followed the leaders. All three gained considerable ground while Walters and Hannum cooled their heels.

Right behind, deadlocked in sixth place with 66 are Spence Wright of Lehigh, Billy Gridlock of Scranton and Ed Lerner of Temple.

COACH SWITCH AT OHIO STATE

Columbus, O., Jan. 3 (AP)—Ohio State university today had its fourth new head coach in 12 years after an unprecedented swap in which the head coach and his assistant traded jobs.

Moved up to head coach was Paul O. Bixler, 39, an assistant since 1941. Dropped back to assistant was Carroll C. Widdoes, 42, who in 1944 gave the Bucks their first perfect regular season since 1920 and a Big Ten championship and whose 1945 team lost only to Purdue and Michigan. Widdoes also was named "coach of the year" in 1944.

The Ohio State Athletic Board, which said it unanimously approved the change, made public a copy of a letter from Widdoes in which he offered his resignation because "I have come to the conclusion that I am better satisfied as an assistant than I have been as head coach."

Financial terms of the contract with Bixler were not made public, but the board said there was a "gentleman's agreement" that it would be for three years.

Hornets' Jinx Is Too Much For Flyers

(By The Associated Press)
One of the reasons the St. Louis Flyers have held title to the cellar berth of the western division of the American Hockey league for the past two seasons is that they find it hard to defeat the Hornets on Pittsburgh ice.

After beating Pittsburgh handily New Year's night in St. Louis the Flyers could not overcome their two-year jinx and bowed to the Hornets 5-2 last night.

All other teams were idle. No games are scheduled tonight.

CONN BEGINS TO TRAIN FOR LOUIS

Pittsburgh, Jan. 3 (AP)—Billy Conn was en route to Hot Springs, Ark., today for a training grind he hoped would pare 10 pounds off his weight and get his legs in trim for his heavyweight title bout with Joe Louis next June.

"The first thing on the program is to get my legs in shape," the Pittsburgh heavyweight asserted as he boarded the train. He was accompanied by Freddie Fierro, his New York trainer, and a friend.

Fierro has mapped out a lot of road work for me at Hot Springs," Conn said, "so I'll be doing a lot of bouncing up and down those Arkansas mountains for about four weeks."

Conn said he hopes to cut down his weight from 190 to 180 pounds before he returns to Pittsburgh late in February where he will continue training for the title bout.

Disagreeing with those who believe Louis will not be able to get in shape for the fight, Conn declared:

"Joe will be ready, don't worry about that. He's got some weight around his stomach, but he'll take that off when he starts hard training. We'll both be in good shape."

TIGERS BEATEN

QUATRAINS

Fragile
My New Year's resolutions are
As stout as I can make them.
Still they won't stand the slightest jar,
So easily I break them.

Habit-Breaking
It's not too late
To learn new tricks.
Now change the date
To "forty-six."

A Year
The days are bunched into weeks,
In months the weeks are laid.
Time holds them fast till twelve
Have past,
And thus a year is made.

Vain Wish
Wish I'd will enough in me,
Till a year has gone,
To become the man I'd be
On January one.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THE FELLING OF A TREE

To me the sight of the sacrifice of a tree is a picture most tragic, yet, instead of its death, it lives on! Down the river it floats, or is carried to the sawmill, where its new life begins. Timbers are cut and planed. Homes, furniture, or pulp for newspapers result.

In the home songs and laughter appear. Books that educate and inspire flood the book stalls and shops. Libraries are formed. Knowledge is spread to the far corners of the earth. That fallen tree lives anew!

And what a flood of memories die with the felling of a tree! Shelter from many a storm. Cattle or other stock cooled by its shade. Nests of singing birds built within its branches. Little flying families sent out to give their songs at sunrise and sunset. Blessings bred among the leaves. And a way-station for many a variety of flying fowl.

How like life is that tree. From its first inception of life, poking its small nose out of the rich earth, until standing high and powerful under the blue sky, it takes all that is given to it of storm, stress and calm. Then it is cut down—but, as suggested above, it does not die. Neither does a man die after his active years are over, and the heart no longer beats. He lives on—in many a life, in books, in poems in inventions, and endless creations that continue to bless and build the stuff of character in the world.

The felling of a tree is a process, like life. I have just finished reading the life of Caruso, written by his wife. It is a beautiful and tragic story. That great voice is stilled, but the memory of his big heart and his natural goodness lives in many a life—and that great voice still lives in scores of records that tell of the artist he was.

Death is tragic, but it is not the end. I think it was Longfellow who once said that death was mere transition. Transition into all who loved that one in life, and far beyond. Transition into eternity, of which we all some day must partake.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Tune Your Being To Things"

STAGE STRUCK

Anchorage, Alaska, (AP)—His timing was off but two-year-old David Hansen played the role of "young 1946" with glee early January 2 in a department store display window. The baby, garbed only in his sleeping clothes, pranced and smiled at a swiftly gathering crowd until his mother, whose apartment adjoins the store, awoke and trailing him through an unlocked door, snatched him from the window.

'LORD HAW HAW' IS EXECUTED ON GALLOWS TODAY

London, Jan. 3 (AP)—William Joyce, notorious "Lord Haw Haw" of the German air waves, died a traitor's death this morning on the gallows of Wandsworth prison.

The 40-year-old American-born Joyce, who sold his voice to Adolf Hitler as a radio propagandist at the outset of the war, was executed shortly after 9 a. m. (4 a. m. EST) for high treason. He was convicted by a British court last September 19.

He died on the same scaffold where John Amery, 33-year-old son of a former British cabinet member, was hanged on December 19 on treason charges growing out of similar radio activities.

Only a small group of prison officials saw Joyce plunge through the trap. Under English law no spectators may witness an execution.

Execution of the death sentence was announced in two typewritten sheets which were posted outside the prison gates shortly after the hanging.

Prison officials said Joyce walked to the gallows from his death cell, his arms pinioned behind him with the broad black strap used in countless executions. The trap was sprung by Albert Pierrepoint, nephew of the famed hangman who executed Amery.

Joyce's death under leaden skies in the stone-walled prison courtyard ended a fantastic career which led him from Fascist street fights in England to an infamous place as Hitler's number one English language broadcaster.

Nazi Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels paid Joyce $60 a week for his radio work, which consisted of four daily broadcasts.

Joyce, who came to England from America at the age of 15, became a follower of Sir Oswald Mosley while a student at London university and was a member of his British Fascist group until 1933, when the two parted amid rumors of a quarrel. Later Joyce organized a "National Socialist league" in Britain, which he headed until he departed for Germany in August, 1939.

He was wounded slightly when captured by the British at Luenberg on May 28, 1945, after Germany's collapse.

Joyce based his unsuccessful defense largely on the contention that he was an American citizen and hence could not be found guilty of treason to Britain.

HOMMA GOES ON TRIAL FOR MANY WAR ATROCITIES

By JAMES HEISEMA

Manila, Jan. 3 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, charged with responsibility for the Bataan death march and thousands of other atrocities, went on trial for his life today. He promptly heard the prosecution assert that he has no rights under the U. S. constitution and that he is "being tried for violations of the laws of humanity."

Lt. Paul W. White, Lincoln, Neb., of the prosecution staff, said the Japanese government has informed the U. S. army that Homma is not entitled to be treated as a lieutenant general. Although not discharged dishonorably in the western sense of the term, the stooped and aged Homma is in complete disgrace at home because of his military failure in the Philippines in 1942. White explained, Homma, with overpowering numbers, required too long to conquer Bataan and Corregidor to please Tokyo and thus delayed Japan's southward advance.

Claim Close Links
Homma's appearance in court in a white suit instead of in uniform presumably is because of this reported disgrace.

Attorneys for both sides said informally they anxiously are awaiting the U. S. supreme court's action on the appeal of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, recently convicted of condoning uncounted horrors by his troops and sentenced to be hanged. The Yamashita trial, first war crimes hearing in the Pacific, set many precedents. Attorneys will have to gauge their actions by the supreme court's rulings.

White said the prosecution is prepared to link Homma much more closely with his troops' crimes than was the case in the Yamashita trial. He pointed out that Homma's headquarters were less than a quarter-mile from the road on which, for 20 successive days, the pitiful Bataan prisoners were marched. He also said the prosecution has proof that Homma's headquarters ordered the execution of Chinese Consul General Kwangson Young and his staff.

Many peasants' homes in Cuba are built entirely of the Manaca palm.

THE LEAST YOU CAN DO

★ The early Greek physicians believed that it was not possible for a man to enjoy perfect health unless he carefully organized his life to accomplish this single objective. This meant the meticulous ordering of each day. Proper nutrition, exercise, and rest were perfectly balanced. Physical constitution, age, and even the seasons of the year were considered.

For a man of affairs, such a regimen is out of the question. When your work is done, you play and exercise when you can. But this little you can do. See your family physician at least once a year. Follow his advice. In case medication is required, we are prepared to serve you, promptly and economically.

FEED SUBSIDIES FOR DAIRYMEN MAY END MAR. 31

Harrisburg, Jan. 3 (AP)—Federal feed subsidies to farmers may halt after March 31 and the state Milk Control Commission is not sure what will happen to Pennsylvania's milk industry.

Chairman H. N. Cobb said today dealers and producers will meet some time this month to discuss the advisability of holding state-wide hearings on present retail and wholesale milk prices in Pennsylvania.

Cobb said the present federal feed subsidies paid farmers in Pennsylvania in lieu of a two cents a quart increase in retail prices is scheduled to run only until March 31 and "no one knows what the government plans to do after that."

Possible Change in Retail Price
"The sense of the industry," he added, "is that we should be prepared for any eventuality."

Cobb also disclosed the commission has orders, ready for promulgation within a statutory six-day period, affecting retail prices in six eastern Pennsylvania marketing areas where a special federal subsidy has been paid since 1943 should the Office of Price Admin-

Brick And Tile Workers Ask Raise

Pittsburgh, Jan. 3 (AP)—Twenty brick and tile plants, including eight in Western Pennsylvania, are covered in strike petitions filed with the NLRB in Washington, the United Construction Workers announced today.

The union, an affiliate of the United Mine Workers, said the strike is sought to support a demand for a $2-a-day wage increase. The union said it has petitioned the OPA to remove price ceilings from products of the affected companies.

THIS WASN'T PREDICTED

Kansas City, (AP)—The forecast at the weather bureau here is for generally fair weather with light rains and a sore eyelid. The eyelid, cut by his shattered spectacles, belongs to Edward L. McGuire, forecaster who collided with a fellow observer as he was poring over a weather map. "That's the first casualty we've had," observed Chief Observer J. R. Lloyd. "Not counting, of course, our forecasts."

The OPA in 1943 approved a cent a quart increase in price in those areas but a Presidential hold-the-line order on prices a few days later made it ineffective and the subsidy was given instead.

TRUMAN 'CHAT' TONIGHT AT 10

Washington, Jan. 3 (AP)—President Truman adopted the "fireside chat" technique of his White House predecessor today in the hope of dislodging key labor and other legislative proposals from Capitol Hill snags.

Mr. Truman takes to the radio at 10 p. m. Eastern Standard Time tonight with an appeal to the people at a time when his administration is plagued with strikes and threatened walkouts.

One of his most recent proposals was a recommendation to place the force of law behind fact-finding boards to permit them to weigh disputes affecting important nationwide industries. Both strikes and lockouts would be barred while the fact-finding procedures were in operation.

Mr. Truman's championship of this and other legislation tonight may well figure prominently in next summer's congressional campaigns. Some of his associates express the view that the 30-minute speech will lay the framework for Democratic election campaigns, especially in industrial states.

With the CIO United Auto Workers cut at General Motors plants, the CIO United Steel Workers set to strike January 14 and other industrial strife looming large, attention was focussed on the labor aspects of the address. Mr. Truman has said, however, that it will cover his overall legislative program and the state of the union.

LIST SPEAKERS
AT 30TH ANNUAL
PA. FARM SHOW

Harrisburg, Jan. 3 (AP)—The nation's best-known farmer-author, Louis Bromfield, tops a list of more than a score of out-of-state speakers who will address the 30th annual State Farm Show week educational meetings here Jan. 22, 23 and 24.

Bromfield, also known as an outstanding soil conservationist, joins with Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst in speaking at the banquet of the Pennsylvania Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' association on Wednesday evening, Jan. 23.

On the same evening, Dr. Roger Corbett, Chicago, secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will talk to the Pennsylvania Dairy-men's Association.

Other Prominent Speakers

Governor Martin will address the opening session on Tuesday, Jan. 22, together with Dr. William I. Myers, dean of the college of agriculture at Cornell university.

Other well-known leaders and educators slated to participate in various farmer show week meetings are G. M. Cairns, university of Maryland, who will appear at the Ayres-shire Breeders' Association session; R. D. Lewis, chairman of the department of agronomy at Ohio state university, speaking before the crop improvement association, and M. H. Fohrmann, U. S. Department of Agriculture, at the Dairy-men's association meeting.

Ladd Haystead, editor of the Fortune magazine farm column, and Don Rose, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin columnist, will address the annual luncheon of the Guernsey Breeders' Association, M. S. Prescott, editor of the Holstein-Friesian World, is to address the Holstein Association.

Meyer To Speak

A series of talks on farm safety is scheduled before several different farm associations by W. E. Tuckey, Ohio state farm safety specialist.

The State Horticultural Association will head messages on new developments in growing and marketing fruits from: E. A. Meyer, U. S. Department of Agriculture; P. C. Turner, Baltimore, president and manager of the food producers' council; Dr. Frank App, Seabrook farms, Bridgeton, N. J.; L. L. Rummel, Kroger grocery and baking Co., Cincinnati, O.; Carroll R. Miller, Appalachian apple service, Martinsburg, W. Va., and Dr. B. A. Porter, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The State potato growers' association at its annual banquet Thursday evening, Jan. 24, will be addressed by Edward J. Condon, Chicago, Sears, Roebuck and Co.; Dr. C. M. McConnell, Boston university, and Secretary Horst.

Many Group Sessions

C. F. Smith, New York city, eastern manager of the poultry and egg national board, will talk to turkey growers on selling turkeys in halves and quarters. They will also hear talks by F. R. Beaudette, Rutgers university, and Alfred van Wageningen, Trenton, N. J., northeastern poultry producers' council.

Experiments in the sale of fresh vegetables in cellophane wrapping will be described at a meeting of vegetable growers by Dr. C. R. Hauck, Ohio state university.

In addition to these and other out-of-state speakers, nearly 200 members of the 25 state-wide agricultural associations and representatives of the Pennsylvania state college will address meetings of the different groups.

SAY JIM DAVIS
MAY RUN AGAIN

Washington, Jan. 3 (AP)—Former Senator James J. Davis doesn't talk like a man planning to run for office again, but you never can tell.

Political gossip around Pennsylvania maintains that 72-year-old "Puddler Jim," secretary of labor for three presidents and a senator for 14 years until his defeat in 1944, is "up to something."

The talk is he may run this year either for the Senate again or for the Keystone state governorship, a job he sought unsuccessfully in 1942.

Asked about these reports yesterday, the veteran Pennsylvania Republican did not say yes or no. Instead, he told a reporter:

"You know, I put in many years working for the public. I'm having a wonderful time now as a private citizen. I haven't had so much pleasure in years—I eat well, I sleep well, I see a lot more of my family."

Asked again whether he intends to run, Davis ignored the question and continued: "My children say they never got to see me at all until they were old enough to vote." It's different now, however, he added. "We spend a lot of time together."

LATIN AMERICA
PONDERS TREATY

Washington, Jan. 3 (AP)—All Latin American governments except Argentina today pondered a United States proposed treaty which would provide for concerted military action to thwart or put down aggression anywhere in this hemisphere.

The document, made public by Latin American diplomats, will be considered at the forthcoming Rio De Janeiro conference scheduled for early spring.

Diplomatic authorities consider this country's suggestion as a running mate to the recent Uruguayan proposal calling for collective action in this hemisphere against any nation which disregards its international obligations or denies human rights to its own people.

STATE COLLEGE
CLOSED TO ALL
BUT VETERANS

State College, Pa., Jan. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania State college, staggering under an enrollment swollen to unprecedented proportions, announced today it will not accept civilian freshmen students for the opening of the March semester.

Only about 800 returning veterans who were students at the college at the time they left for military service will be admitted, President Ralph D. Hetzel said.

More than 6,000 students are now enrolled.

"In these circumstances," Hetzel declared, "the trustees and officers feel that first concentration must be given to those who left the college in response to the nation's call to arms. We promised them opportunity to return to college and we must keep faith."

Cancellations Regretted

Hetzel said the college "deeply regretted" cancellation of some admissions already granted civilian freshmen because of the "limitations set up, but they are made necessary by conditions beyond its control."

Admissions will be made on the basis of seven classifications.

Available housing capacity, however, will probably be completely filled, the college said, by veterans who come under these two highest priorities:

(A) Veterans who left Penn State for military service.

(B) Disabled veterans under the terms of public law 16 who are Pennsylvania residents and admissible to Penn State at a level above that of first semester freshmen.

Trainees Come Next

The next three highest ratings will be given to veterans who were enrolled in college military training programs, on the condition that they can be admitted at a level above that of first semester freshmen:

(C) Veterans who are Pennsylvania residents, who were enrolled in the ASTP, V-12 and AAP at other institutions.

The other ratings:

(D) Veterans who are Pennsylvania residents and who apply for transfer from other colleges.

(E) Veterans who were graduated from Pennsylvania high schools, but did not enter college prior to going into military service.

vanilla residents, who were enrolled at Penn State in the ASTP, V-12 and AAP programs.

(D)—Veterans who are Pennsylvania residents, who were enrolled in ASTP, V-12 and AAP at other institutions.

(E) Veterans who are not residents of Pennsylvania, who were enrolled in the ASTP, V-12 and AAP at other institutions.

The other ratings:

(F) Veterans who are Pennsylvania residents and who apply for transfer from other colleges.

(G) Veterans who were graduated from Pennsylvania high schools, but did not enter college prior to going into military service.

HIGHER WAGES FAIL TO END STRIKE THREAT

New York, Jan. 3 (AP)—The Western Union Telegraph company, putting into effect higher wages ordered by the War Labor Board, today found its AFL employees prepared to accept the increases and its CIO workers ready for a strike that would cut service between New York and the rest of the country.

Three thousand members of the CIO American Communications association which represents New York employees of the company, voted unanimously last night to strike at 11 a. m. (EST) next Tuesday in protest against the WLB directive. The walkout would affect 7,000 workers in the metropolitan area.

Earlier, the general committee of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union, bargaining agent for 50,000 Western Union workers elsewhere in the nation, had recommended that its locals accept the WLB decision and call off a strike set for January 7.

The WLB, acting in two different cases, had ordered wage increases said to average 12 cents an hour.

The CIO meeting which voted the strike gave an indication of its possible effects as local telegraph offices and telegraph and cable message centers were forced to curtail their services from two to four hours. Supervisors filled the places of operators and clerks who left their jobs to attend the rally.

Joseph P. Selly, ACA president, termed the 12-cent award of the board "completely inaccurate and misleading." He held that while a minority of workers would receive substantial increases, many New York employees would benefit "not one cent" from the award and others would receive raises of from one-half to six cents.

Hastings, Neb., (AP)—All during the war a customer at one Hastings meat market joshed his butcher by walking into the shop and calling out loudly, "10 pounds of bacon, please." The other day after he made his customary request, the butcher produced a 10-lb. slab of bacon. Then the customer talked his way out of making the $4 purchase.

Davenport, Ia., Jan. 3 (AP)—Thomas Layden, 79, former wholesale grocery salesman and father of Commissioner Elmer Layden of the National Football League and Mike Layden, Western conference football official died last night.
